

Hello

Welcome to my email newsletter - thank you so much for joining me on this new journey!

While I read an eclectic mix of genres, my first love is writing historical fiction. Stories that transport us to different times and places, where things couldn't be more different to our current lives. Anything that skirts the boundary between superstition and fact fascinates me, and you too, I hope.

I'm really looking forward to sharing my news and stories and finding out what you think.

You should hear from me every 2-3 weeks, but with 2 books in my series complete, I hope to be in touch a bit more often with updates on when you can expect to read book 1.

When you signed up, I hope you managed to successfully download your copy of the PROLOGUE to the series, and that it gives you a sense of how I write and where we're going.

If not, you can grab it here below.

Do let me know what you think - it's great to hear from readers. You can contact me anytime online: on my Facebook, Instagram or Twitter pages, or simply by hitting reply to one of my emails.

If you haven't already, please remember to add Ally Stirling to your address book, or 'approved senders' list, so I don't end up in your trash. Not a very nice place to be!

'Till next time

Ally

Strange things are happening in these woods ... more about that next time

Author Ally Stirling

A passion for telling stories

Download your PROLOGUE to my series

Ally Stirling

You received this email because you signed up on our website or made a purchase from us.

Unsubscribe

Update preferences

